

DESCRIPTION

The RD radial damper is an alternative to the traditional disc damper commonly found in header boxes.

The RD provides greater balancing of air flow as well as more control during the commissioning stage of a project.

Typically fitted into the spigot of a header box or directly to the neck of a round diffuser.

CONSTRUCTION

Zincanneal and in a black matt finish.

